

Dear Mead Community,

We have identified a variety of websites that may be helpful to parents who want to provide additional mathematical support at home. These websites are helpful in furthering understanding of mathematical practices. These sites are simply resources that provide additional practice activities for students and review concepts, process, vocabulary, and mathematical practice. When using these sites, please feel free to provide us feedback. We always welcome your thoughts.

Margaret Mead Math Content Team

http://www.awesomelibrary.org/Classroom/Mathematics/Elementary_School_Math/Elementary_School_Math.html

http://www.homeschoolmath.net/math_elementary_online.php

<http://www.aplusmath.com/>

<http://www.mtlakes.org/ww/tech/webtools/math.htm>

<http://www.terc.edu/ourwork/elementarymath.html>

<http://www.whitehouse.gov/kids/>

<http://www.journal.naeyc.org/btj/200301/MathGlossary.pdf>

<http://literacy.owcc.net/famlit/children/Math.htm>

<http://school.discovery.com/homeworkhelp/bjpinchbeck/bjmath.html>

<http://www.kidinfo.com/Mathematics/Mathematics.html>